

LAUNCH SUPER CARRIER U.S.S. FORRESTAL

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

OIL OF MEE — WHY NOT TAKE OIL OF MEEEEE! The oil report for Saline county did not come in this week and for the benefit of those who look anxiously for it in the Saturday paper (I hope it's here for Monday), I'll do all I can to help out and write an oil column.

With my great background of oil (I know you squirt it out of an oil can to reduce friction and tend to prevent rust), I think I'll try to work the column into one of the well-known thumbnail quizzes. All you have to do is to put the mark within the thumbnail in front of the correct answer.

We've had 'em before and you know how to work them, so we'll get started without further preliminaries.

An oil well drilled two miles or more from production is known as a:

- ( ) Panther
- ( ) Elephant
- ( ) Peke
- ( ) Wildcat

Now that wasn't so tough, was it? Let's keep on going:

About 95 per cent of the oil produced comes from holes drilled by rigs called:

- ( ) Jigsaw
- ( ) Mortis
- ( ) Slubber
- ( ) Rotary

When a tool is lost in the hole, the process of getting it out is called:

- ( ) Hunting
- ( ) Fishing
- ( ) Swimming
- ( ) Golfing

Cutting sections of possible oil-bearing rock from a hole for examination at the top is:

- ( ) Peeling
- ( ) Slicing
- ( ) Coring
- ( ) Cutting

I bet a lot of you still have 100 on this exam, but let's keep moving:

Getting the pressure and fluid content of a porous zone in a hole is called:

- ( ) Gauging
- ( ) Drill stem testing
- ( ) Logging
- ( ) Analyzing

Maybe today's test was a bit too simple but just in case, the right answers were: 4, 4, 2, 3, 2. Hope that oil reports gets in for Monday.

Ground Observer Test Sunday

A practice test alert for members of the Ground Observer Corps has been ordered for Sunday from 12 noon to 6 p. m. Ray Altmire, county supervisor of the Ground Observer Corps, asks all observers to report to Rees Turner, Harrisburg supervisor, who will station them in various places.

Ground observer posts are located in Eldorado, Harrisburg, Galatia, Independence, Stonefort and Carrier Mills in Saline county. More observers are needed and those wishing to volunteer for this service are asked to contact either Mr. Altmire or Rees Turner.

The practice test alert has been ordered by Richard J. Burns, Captain USAF, commander of the Springfield filter center of the Ground Observer Corps. He also has ordered a report on the results of the test.

City Firemen Bring Cat Down from Tree

A big, yellow cat that had been high in a tree in the 400 block of North Main street for several days, was brought down this morning by a city fireman.

Humane Society resources were not adequate to get the cat, so the help of the fire department was enlisted.

Fireman Lawrence Logsdon went to the top of a 40-foot extension ladder to reach the animal and bring it down.

Sister of Levi Chitty Dies at Carbondale

Mrs. Fannie Craig, 73, died at her home in Carbondale yesterday morning.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Huffman funeral home there.

Mrs. Craig was the sister of Levi Chitty of Harrisburg.

MINES

Sahara 5 and 16 work.
Peabody 43 works.
Blue Bird 7 and 8 work
Carmac works.

THE SALINE COUNTY DRIVER'S LICENSE examination station is now open for business at its new location, 314 South Main street. Leo Davis, county driver's license inspector, moved into the new quarters Monday, Dec. 6. The building has been redecorated and new office furniture installed. There are chairs to accommodate several and two desks, plus other necessary furnishings. At the time the picture was made Inspector Davis was explaining to the young man, seated with back to camera, the necessary steps to have a driver's license re-issued. The young man had lost his billfold, containing among other things, his driver's license. Others were waiting, all with problems related to driver's or chauffeur's license. The office is open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., Monday through Friday of each week. (Register Staff Photo)

Eight Elected to HTHS National Honor Society; 4 to Junior Group

Eight students in the Senior class at the Harrisburg Township high school were recently elected by a vote of the faculty to the Senior National Honor society, and four sophomores were elected members of the Junior National Honor society.

Doris Steinmarch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Steinmarch; Marilyn Womack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Womack; Barbara Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dunn; Judy Morse, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Summerville; Mona Wickham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corby Wickham; Charles Polk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Polk; Judy Belt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Belt; and Catherine Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Anderson, were the seniors elected to the Senior National Honor society. The sophomores elected to the Junior National Honor society were: Anne Endsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Endsley; Judy Franks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Franks Jr.; Charles Cummins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cummins; and Robert Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones.

Junior Society Elects Officers

Senior students eligible for membership represented 10 per cent of the Senior class who had an average of at least 92 up to the present grading period. Those eligible for membership in the junior society represented the upper 5 per cent of the Sophomore class who had an average of at least 92 in evaluating the students, the faculty considered the points of leadership character, and service to the school; considering whether the student showed initiative, did more than the mere requirements, was looked up to by the student body, whether his actions had a good reflection on the school, whether he was co-operative and shouldered responsibility, and was active in extra-curricular activities.

Officers for the Junior National Honor society were elected Dec. 10 with the following members elected: President, Bill Bottomley; vice president, Judy Franks; secretary, Anne Endsley; and treasurer, Charles Cummins. The election of the officers for the Senior National Honor society will be completed in the near future. The members of both groups will attend an initiation dinner Tuesday evening, Dec. 14, at the high school.

Throughout the school year, the members have various projects at HTHS. In the past, the students have helped with landscaping, helped in the office and have served as substitute teachers.

Aims of Society

The National Honor society in the United States was organized in 1921 and now has an enrollment of 6,000 chapters. The chapter at HTHS was formed in 1946 with six members. Through the years, 62 students have belonged to the society at HTHS which is sponsored by H. B. Bauman.

One of the main purposes of the National Honor society is the encouragement of scholarship and the furthering of education. From the members belonging to the society in 1947, 8 out of 9 are college graduates; in 1948, 4 out of 8; in 1949, 9 out of 11; in 1950, all will be by February; and in 1954, all are entered in college or nurses' training schools.

These students are preparing themselves for entering into all the walks of life. From the group of former members of the National Honor society, have come many nurses and teachers, with one holding a Ph.D. degree and being a Phi Delta Kappa and one being a Phi Theta Kappa. From this group, there are also several pre-dental and pre-med students, with one serving his internship and one in theological school.

These students attended many of the leading colleges with most of them attending the University of Illinois and Washington university.

AF Studies Flying Saucer Reports

WASHINGTON — The Air Force is studying so-called "flying saucer" sightings in foreign countries as well as those reported in the United States.

A spokesman said Friday that a "flying saucer" photograph distributed by the United Press is being studied by the Air Technical Intelligence Center at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

The photograph, made at Taormina, Sicily, showed Sicilians looking at two disk shaped objects. It was made by Giuseppe Grasso, a photographer who supplied the picture to the United Press Rome Bureau.

The Air Force said reports of unidentified flying objects are sent here from abroad through the U. S. military attaché system.

During the first nine months of 1954, the Air Force said, 254 sightings were reported compared to 429 last year and 1,700 in 1952. No breakdown was available today on the number of foreign and domestic sightings in the total.

More than 80 per cent are explainable as known objects, the Air Force said.

Three Eldorado Youths Admit Burglary of Rainbow Drug Store

The Rainbow drug store burglary which occurred last Saturday night today was solved.

Three Eldorado teen-age youths, the youngest 13, were being questioned this morning by county officers after an investigation by the sheriff's force last night.

The three admitted entering the local drug store, Sheriff William T. Barrett said. A small amount of money and some cigarette lighters were missing from the store.

Indiana to Drill Wabash River Oil Wells for Revenue

INDIANAPOLIS — Indiana will hire promoters to drill for oil in the Wabash River from Terre Haute south past Mt. Vernon.

This new plan to boost state revenues was revealed late Friday when it was announced bids will be received from private drillers to provide the equipment and labor and share profits with Indiana.

Conservation Director Harley Hook said drilling may occur in the river bed any place along that portion which forms the boundary between Indiana and Illinois. This comprises about two-fifths of the state's western boundary and extends to the Ohio River.

Indiana owns that portion of the river bed from the center to its shoreline, Hook said, and geological reports indicate there is "an indeterminate amount of oil under the Wabash."

Cut Rail Freight On Coal to Chicago From Illinois Mines

SPRINGFIELD — Chicago homeowners today were in line for a reduction in coal prices.

The Illinois Commerce Commission has authorized railroads to make a 65-cent-per-ton cut in freight rates for soft coal shipped from Illinois mines to Chicago.

The reduction applies only to coal shipped to Chicago, not to cities between the mines and that city. The railroads had asked the reduction "to meet water competition" to Chicago.

The lower Chicago rates are to become effective on one day's notice. They will expire next June 30, unless changed by the ICC before then.

The photograph, made at Taormina, Sicily, showed Sicilians looking at two disk shaped objects. It was made by Giuseppe Grasso, a photographer who supplied the picture to the United Press Rome Bureau.

The Air Force said reports of unidentified flying objects are sent here from abroad through the U. S. military attaché system.

UN Chief Begins Task of Winning Freedom for 11

General Assembly Approves Mandate By 47 to 5 Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (U.P.) — U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld began today the difficult task of attempting to win freedom for 11 American airmen jailed for "spying" by Red China.

As head of the organization for which the imprisoned Americans fought in the Korean war, Hammarskjöld was given a mandate by the General Assembly to seek their release.

The assembly approved by a 47-5 vote a resolution instructing Hammarskjöld to intercede. Only the Soviet bloc opposed it and India, Indonesia, Burma, Afghanistan, Syria, Yemen and Yugoslavia abstained.

The resolution left it to Hammarskjöld to "make, by the means most appropriate in his judgment, continuing and unremitting efforts," to get the Chinese Reds to release the prisoners.

A spokesman for Hammarskjöld said the secretary general was "taking immediate steps" to carry out the resolution but said it "would not serve the purposes of the resolution to make any public announcement as to what these steps are."

India May Be Bo-Gotten This meant Hammarskjöld could do many things, from the dramatic step of going to Peiping himself, negotiating through a "neutral" maintaining relations with the Chinese Communists, or enlisting Russia's "good offices" or simply sending a note.

A source close to the Indian delegation said India had a "definite indication" it would be called on to play the role of go-between.

For that reason, the source said, India abstained in the assembly vote so it would have "clean hands" if it is chosen as the middle man. India already has been reported as conveying to the Red Chinese regime, through its ambassador in Peiping, the anger stirred up in the American people by unjust jailing of the fliers.

The United States was certain not to be satisfied with anything less than a full-scale effort on Hammarskjöld's part and was reported to have made this clear to the secretary general.

Expect Dale to Surrender on Tax Indictments

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U.P.) — Southern Illinois labor boss Evan R. Dale, already convicted of trying to extort $1,030,000 from a giant electrical project, was expected today to surrender next week on new indictments charging tax evasion.

A federal grand jury indicted Dale Friday on charges that he evaded $104,656 in federal income taxes. Government attorneys said they will charge that the unreported income consisted of "pay-offs" from contractors.

U. S. Atty. John B. Stoddart Jr. expected Dale to surrender some time next week on the new indictments. A $10,000 bond will be asked, he said.

Dale, head of the Southern Illinois District Council of Common Laborers, was convicted in East St. Louis, Ill., last Tuesday of trying to extort a small fortune from builders of the electrical project at Joppa, Ill. The project will supply power to the new atomic energy installation at Paducah, Ky.

Eisenhower, Truman Join in Praise As Marshall is Honored by Amvets

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and former President Truman heaped new praise on Gen. George C. Marshall Friday night as the former secretary of state and defense was honored by the Amvets for his wartime leadership.

Mr. Eisenhower said Marshall, his World War II boss, "has rendered to our country service of unexcelled distinction and patriotism. His life is an example of integrity and devotion to duty."

Mr. Truman said he thinks "as highly of General Marshall as one man can of another."

He was the great man of the Second World War. He was a great secretary of state, he was a great secretary of defense and he was one of the greatest ambassadors that I had in my presidential family."

Both the President and Mr. Truman have praised Marshall on previous occasions, particularly after Marshall was attacked by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy. McCarthy charged in a 1951 Senate speech that while serving on a mission to China for Mr. Truman, Marshall became part of an "immense conspiracy" to let the Communists take over China.

Father of Actor Jimmie Stewart To Wed at 82

INDIANA, Pa. (U.P.) — Movie actor Jimmie Stewart plays a "supporting" role today at the wedding of his 82-year-old father to a Canadian widow in a hometown ceremony before about 40 friends.

The lanky cinema star plans to be best man for his octogenarian father, Alexander Stewart, a widower who owns and operates the town's hardware store.

Stewart, a life-long resident of the small Western Pennsylvania mountain community, will wed Mrs. J. J. Stothart, of St. James, New Brunswick, at the home of Mrs. Robert Dingman, a next-door neighbor, and a niece of the bride-to-be, at 5:30 p. m. EST.

The elder Stewart was reported by his family to be "overjoyed with excitement" over the impending ceremony. He met Mrs. Stothart during one of her visits here.

His famous son Jimmy arrived today after an overnight train ride from New York, accompanied by his wife, former model Gloria McLean.

To Visit in California

The actor's two sisters, Mrs. Virginia Tiranoff, of Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., and Mrs. Mary Perry, wife of an Edwina, Pa., doctor, also were on hand.

The prospective bridegroom said the wedding would be a "quiet ceremony." There will be a reception for about 40 close friends.

The Rev. Harry Boyd of the First Presbyterian church will officiate at the ceremony.

Stewart was first married in 1906 to Elizabeth Ruth Stewart, Jimmy's mother. She was the daughter of a Civil War veteran and steel company founder. She died here Aug. 2, 1953.

Find Girl's Bicycle

A girl's bicycle, found near the Taste-Freeze building on East Poplar street is at the police department in the city hall and its owner may claim it there.

Marshall was presented the Amvets' steel helmet award at the veteran groups' 10th anniversary dinner. Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Truman's remarks were contained in messages read at the dinner.

In making the award, Amvets National Commander Rufus H. Wilson said that in his posts of wartime leadership Marshall "fought tenaciously through what must have seemed to a lesser man insurmountable obstacles."

The principal speaker was Foreign Aid Chief Harold E. Stassen, who praised Marshall's contributions to European economic stability through the plan that bore his name.

Abandons, Then Tries to Adopt Her Own Baby

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (U.P.) — Authorities revealed today that a married nurse's aide abandoned her hour-old baby at the hospital door and then, sick with remorse, tried to "adopt" the child.

The nurse, Mrs. Bessie Marie Vaughan, broke down in tears as she admitted the deception Friday. She was taken to Lake County General Hospital in nearby Waukegan and a warrant charging her with child abandonment was issued.

Mrs. Vaughan told Sheriff Stanley M. Christian and State's Atty. Robert C. Nelson that she delivered herself of the baby girl Nov. 2.

The officials said Mrs. Vaughan and her husband, Ralph, 49, agreed they couldn't afford to keep the baby. So they drove to the Condell Memorial Hospital, where she worked, and Vaughan left the infant in a shoe box outside the kitchen door, the officials said.

Search for Husband

When the nurse returned to work two days later, she heard other employees talking about the baby. They all said she was a beautiful child and wondered who would have had the heart to abandon her.

"I made up my mind I had made a mistake," she told the sheriff and state's attorney.

However, Mrs. Vaughan shrank from revealing to hospital authorities that she was the mother. Instead, she told them that she had received a letter from the mother, who had begged her to adopt the child.

When Police Chief Joseph Saam questioned Mrs. Vaughan about the letter, she confessed it was a hoax to get her baby back.

Authorities today were searching for Mrs. Vaughan's husband. He was believed to be in Culp, Ill., visiting his two children by a previous marriage.

Charles Venable, 81, Uncle of Mrs. Lowell Reed, Dies

Charles Venable, 81, former resident of Shawneetown, died Friday morning in Legion, Ind.

The body arrived in Eldorado this morning and was taken to the Wright funeral home in New Shawneetown where the funeral will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. Rev. Rowland Westervelt, pastor of the First Presbyterian church will officiate, and burial will be in the Westwood cemetery.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Charles Martin of Shawneetown, and a niece, Mrs. Lowell Reed of Harrisburg.

Climaxes Five-Year Navy Battle For Huge Ship

Mammoth Carrier Is Largest Ever Constructed in U. S.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (U.P.) — The "most powerful naval weapon in history" — the super-aircraft carrier U. S. S. Forrestal — was launched today climaxed a five-year Navy battle for the floating atomic arsenal.

The mammoth, 59,650-ton carrier, the world's mightiest warship and the largest ship ever constructed in the United States, was floated in the huge drydock where it has been under construction for 2 1/2 years.

Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas said the new carrier represents the "most powerful naval weapon in history" and will be "our country's most versatile and most dispersible weapon in our nuclear arsenal."

With the carrier's ability to deliver "swift" and "devastating retaliation," Thomas said, "the Forrestal and her sister ships to follow will be a 'deterrent force against aggression and an insurance policy for peace.'"

But even in Thomas' speech praising the capacities of the first carrier launched since World War II, there were overtones of the bitter Air Force-Navy wrangle over the role of naval air power. He defended the super carrier against Air Force charges that it would be a "sitting duck" to enemy attack.

The impressive launching and christening ceremony was held at the edge of the drydock, in the shadow of the overhanging flight deck. Scores of government officials, admirals, congressmen and shipyard executives were on hand to witness the event.

Thomas' speech was directed in large part at Air Force arguments that the supercarriers would be vulnerable to attack and that the importance of sea and naval air power has diminished. The advent of the atom, the jet, and the missile have increased, not decreased, the "importance of seapower," Thomas said.

Describes Balanced System

"The carriers, which he described as 'unpredictable moving sea bases,' serve to 'complement our fixed base system,'" Thomas said, "and together the two insure a balanced base system which an enemy can not neutralize."

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, in a short speech, said the launching marks "another milestone in the progress we are making to modernize and improve the readiness of our armed services."

Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, said the Forrestal will play a "vital role by smashing at the sources of any enemy's naval power and by assisting our sister services and allied forces in carrying the fight to the foe."

From the flight deck of the controversial ship will fly the Navy's latest jet aircraft, capable of carrying atomic bombs on 1,000-mile strikes at enemy territory.

The great hull is scheduled to be moved out of the drydock and over to the outfitting pier Sunday when there will be a suitable slack tide for the transfer.

The Forrestal — first of what the Navy hopes will be a class of at least 10 ships — will not be completed until late next year when it will join the fleet with a complement of 3,826 men and about 90 planes.

The 1,036-foot hull, with its broad overhanging, canted flight decks, was constructed at a cost of $197,859,000 — $20,141,000 less than originally estimated when its keel was laid on July 14, 1952. But by the time the carrier is equipped with all its planes, ordnance, and complicated gear, the cost will probably run to about $372,000,000.

Killed When Auto Runs Under Semi-Trailer

MARSHALL, Ill. (U.P.) — Albert P. Myers, 62, Martinsville, was killed instantly Friday night when his car ran under a semi-trailer truck east of here on U. S. 40.

State police said the truck driver, Herschel W. Cook, Indianapolis, had stopped to let traffic pass before turning off the highway to a weight scale. Cook was not injured.

The Weather

ILLINOIS: Occasional rain tonight. Partly cloudy to cloudy Sunday with snow or rain likely extreme south portion. Warmer east and south tonight and turning colder Sunday. Low tonight 36-42 south. High Sunday 40-45 south.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

This man is worthy to die; for he hath prophesied against this city.—Jeremiah 26:11.

Modern men do not always like to hear the truth. There are still corrupt cities and corruption in high places. The ancient way was to kill the prophets.

WATCH FOR BEAN PESTS

Now is the time to carefully watch soybean fields for sudden insect threats. Illinois entomolo-gists report serious damage to soybeans from green clover worm in several counties and suggest DDT or toxaphene as a control. Chlordane, aldrin, or dieldrin might also work. Any of these chemicals will control bean leaf beetle, says Capper's Farmer, and all except DDT will kill grasshoppers.

Items of Agricultural Interest

Shawneetown Student Wins First in Corn Contest, HTHS Youth is Third

Joe Porter, student at the Shawneetown Community high school, received first high corn yield in the Pioneer Hi-Yield corn growing contest for vocational agriculture students in FFA section 25 in Illinois.

Richard Gates, student at the Harrisburg Township high school, was third in the contest.

Porter obtained the highest yield of 135 bushels per acre with Pioneer 302, under the supervision of Robert D. Walker, vocational agriculture teacher at Shawneetown high school. He was awarded $25 cash prize for winning first place in section 25.

Gates obtained high yield of 114 bushels per acre with Pioneer 9212 and was awarded a $5 cash prize for third place.

There were 303 high schools and 3,630 vocational agriculture students in Illinois entered in this corn growing contest this year and free seed corn was furnished to the students for their corn projects by the Pioneer Hybrid Corn Co.

In this FFA section 25 there were 173 students competing from 10 high schools. FFA section 25 includes the following counties: Williamson, Saline, White, Gallatin, Hardin, Pope, Johnson and Massac.

First 10 winners are as follows: Joe Porter, Shawneetown, 135.07 bushels, No. 302.

Delano McIntosh, Enfield, 118 bushels, No. 302.

Richard Gates, Harrisburg, 114.92 bushels, No. 9212.

Bill Fox, Harrisburg, 113.84 bushels, No. 302.

James Gates, Harrisburg, 112.46 bushels, No. 9212.

Ronald Peters, Enfield, 112 bushels, No. 9212.

Gene Mayberry, Enfield, 107 bushels, No. 302.

George Scherrer, Shawneetown, 105.81 bushels, No. 325.

Jesse Oldham, Shawneetown, 97.2 bushels, No. 302.

Robert Patton, Harrisburg, 94 bushels, No. 302.

Porter lives three and a half miles north of Shawneetown where his family farms about 400 acres. He is a sophomore at Shawneetown Community high school.

Gates is a senior at the Harrisburg Township high school and is president of the Harrisburg FFA. His family farms 355 acres five miles east of Harrisburg.

Demand for Food Grows And Changes

The market for farm products not only has grown considerably since 1941, but has changed in nature.

Ross Kelly, University of Illinois farm economist, says our population has now increased to 162 million compared with 125 million in 1941. A greater proportion of women are married today than in 1941, and there are 60 percent more children under five years of age.

Also consumers have more money to spend. In 1941, consumer income totaled 93 billion dollars. This year it is 250 billion. Income per person has gone up from less than 700 dollars in 1941 to more than 1,500 dollars today.

Eating habits have changed, too. Kelly reports that the average person eats a tenth less cereal, almost a third fewer potatoes and sweet potatoes and about the same amount of fruits. On the other hand, he eats an eighth more meat, including poultry and fish, nearly a third more eggs, a tenth more dairy products, not counting butter, and a few more vegetables.

Consumers are demanding more service along with their foods. The average person eats a tenth fewer fresh vegetables. But he eats about a sixth more canned vegetables and almost twice as many vegetables processed in other ways. He eats a third less fresh fruits, but more than three times as much frozen fruit.

According to Kelly, these changes mean that quality and uniformity are becoming more important and the farmer will benefit by selling in markets that buy on the basis of quality.

American Hybrids Can Double Europe's Corn Crop

Use of American hybrids can double corn production in Europe and the Mediterranean countries.

That's the opinion of R. W. Jugenheimer, University of Illinois plant breeder who spent 18 months in 15 countries of the area.

In 141 tests in 13 countries in 1952, for example, American hybrids increased production 60 percent over the best native open pollinated varieties. So far, Jugenheimer says, nearly all hybrid corn used in Europe has been bred in America, although native hybrids are being developed.

Corn is grown on about 30 million acres in the area, and the use of hybrids would raise yields to equal an additional 18 million acres planted to corn. Hybrid corn was seeded to three percent of the acreage in 1952 and to six percent in 1953, the plant breeder says.

Even at that rate, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations estimates that hybrids were responsible for increased production worth 24 million dollars in 1952 and 40 million dollars in 1953.

In some countries the increase in use of hybrids has been rapid. France planted 28 percent of her corn acreage to hybrids in 1953 and the Netherlands planted more than 75 percent to hybrids. Northern France, Belgium and the Netherlands planted more than 75 percent to hybrids. Northern France, Belgium and the Netherlands are north of the corn belt, and they raised virtually no corn until hybrids came along.

How fast farmers of the area will adopt hybrid corn depends on the value of the hybrids, the effectiveness of extension program and the availability of seed. Seed production in 1953 amounted to 660,000 bushels, double the production of 1952.

The FOA testing program includes plots from Norway to Egypt and from Turkey to Portugal. The five-year program was established at a cost of only $40,000.

Use of American hybrids can double corn production in Europe and the Mediterranean countries.

That's the opinion of R. W. Jugenheimer, University of Illinois plant breeder who spent 18 months in 15 countries of the area.

In 141 tests in 13 countries in 1952, for example, American hybrids increased production 60 percent over the best native open pollinated varieties. So far, Jugenheimer says, nearly all hybrid corn used in Europe has been bred in America, although native hybrids are being developed.

New Spray Helps Control Peach Insects

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Dieldrin, a comparatively new spray material, is excellent for controlling plum curculio and catfacing in peaches if applied early, says Stewart Chandler, Carbondale, in a report prepared for the Illinois State Horticultural society.

Chandler is an associate entomologist with the Illinois Natural History Survey and a research associate for Southern Illinois university, working primarily on tree fruit insect problems.

Conclusions were based on studies in 1953 and 1954 when the emphasis was on the use of dieldrin for controlling catfacing, deformities resulting from insect injuries to peaches during early stages of fruit formation. Earlier tests have shown the spray material superior in controlling plum curculio, an insect causing wormy peaches, he says.

Spraying and dusting tests were conducted in 10 southern Illinois orchards for the study, some applications beginning in the pink stage and others in the blossoming stage. Treatment continued until blossom husks fell from the tiny peach, applications varying from three to four according to the time of beginning.

Chandler found:

1. Best control was obtained where treatment started in the pink or early bloom stage.

2. Dieldrin, in each instance, gave better control than other materials in comparative tests.

3. In 1954 the most critical time for catfacing damage occurred from the time of petal fall until the fruit husks were off.

Chandler also reports on other studies conducted in 1954. The studies and findings are:

1. A peach harvest survey in 32 orchards, representing 12 area counties, showed the lowest percentage of insect injury in five years. Catfacing equalled or exceeded the total of all other defects.

2. In orchards surveyed, 312 poison applications were made, chiefly for curculio control. These showed that lead arsenate benzene hexachloride, and chlordane are declining rapidly in use for control of this insect. The use of parathion, an effective spray material carrying toxic danger for the spray equipment operator, showed a usage decline for the first time in five years. Dieldrin use increased.

3. Surveys of an unsprayed peach orchard near Mounds, under study since 1952, showed heat and drought cut second brood curculio infestation in 1954, indicating a low carryover for 1955. Peak numbers of first brood curculios came 42 days after first appearing during the blossom period, showing spray protection need for a rather long time.

4. Dieldrin spray was two and one-half to four times as effective as chlordane in controlling curculio damage to transparent apples in a Johnson county orchard.

Chandler also reports on work in controlling the roundheaded apple tree borer and two-spotted mites in apple orchards. A comprehensive study of a 27-year-old neglected apple orchard in the Fish and Wildlife area near Crab Orchard Lake continued in 1954 with a survey of insect infestation habits and responses of trees to fertilizers and pruning. The study was started in 1951.

Two Performances Of 'Messiah' At SIU Dec. 12, 13

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A 175-voice choir and the 87-piece Southern Illinois Symphony Orchestra will combine for two performances of Handel's "Messiah" at Southern Illinois university Sunday and Monday, Dec. 12 and 13.

Four professional singers will join with the southern Illinois area musicians and vocalists in the annual oratorio presentation. The soloists include: Carlton Eldridge, blind tenor from Springfield, Ill.; Erhardt Roeske, youthful bass-baritone veteran of radio, stage, opera and concert halls; Maurine Parzybok, a Chicago contralto who has appeared with numerous symphony orchestras, and Clara Mae Enright, Evanston, Ill., soprano.

"The Messiah" will be sung in Shryock auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, and at 10 a. m. Monday for the weekly SIU freshman assembly. Dr. Maurits Kesnar is conductor of the orchestra and chorus.

Eldridge, now in charge of vocal work at Springfield Junior college, has sung the "Messiah" role nearly 50 times. He has been soloist in 700 concerts and 150 college and university recitals.

Roeske studied at the Naples Conservatory of Music after receiving a master's degree from the American Conservatory in Chicago. Now singing with the Chicago Lyric Theater Opera company, he has been booked for seven "Messiah" roles this month in Indiana and Illinois. Roeske, a winner of the Mendelssohn "Auditions of the Air," is also slated for a tour of midwestern and southern concert halls early in 1955.

The contralto soloist, Miss Parzybok, has sung with the Chicago Opera company and her many engagements with symphony orchestras include three successive appearances with the Chicago Symphony. She is also soloist at the Fourth Presbyterian church, Chicago.

Miss Enright, a graduate of Northwestern university, formerly taught at St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn. She is currently soprano soloist at the First Presbyterian church, Evanston.

Spray painting, including preparation and cleanup, is three to six times faster than brush painting, and you'll like the job it does. There are two types of spray guns available, states Capper's Farmer. One is the pressure gun which mixes air with paint internally. The other, a siphon gun, operates with an external air-mix. For general farm use, the pressure type is better.

Mrs. Mildred Boicourt will be hostess Monday at 7 p. m. to the Presbyterian Lenore circle. There will be a 50 cent gift exchange.

Attend Dealer Preview of New Packards

Packard and Clipper models for 1955 have been completely restyled and are new in every major mechanical feature. Buell Burgess, local Packard dealer said upon his return here from a national dealer preview in Detroit, Mich. Mr. Burgess attended the showing of 1955 Packards at the Masonic temple on Dec. 6 and returned home Wednesday.

Representing the culmination of a 30-month program to recapture a portion of Packard's former prominence in the fine car field, the 1955 models are scheduled for public introduction in January. Packard already has 20,000 advance orders.

Burgess said that company economists pointed to a 5,600,000 year for new car sales for the auto industry in 1955. Packard dealers are in a stronger position to compete for what shapes up as a bigger market potential for prestige class transportation, he said.

Production schedule call for 100,000 Packard and Clipper cars during the 1955 model year.

The cars are being built in two new plants, one at Utica, Mich., for engines and transmissions, and the other in Detroit for final car assembly.

At the dealer meeting, it was revealed that the new Packards and Clippers, through development of an entirely new "Torsion-Level" suspension system, will bring to passenger cars the most dramatic improvement in riding quality and control since the introduction of front-coil springing in 1934.

This system will give Packards and Clippers constant riding height regardless of load, and an improved boulevard ride which, at the same time, will provide greater stability in handling in the higher speed ranges permitted on modern highways.

In addition to the "Torsion-Level Ride," the Packards will feature all-new V-8 engines, a new twin-Ultramatic transmission, new styling and more than 100 other major advancements.

The new Packard V-8 engine has already received certification by the American Automobile Association Contest Board for having successfully completed a 25,000-mile endurance run during which it exceeded every existing National Closed Car record from five miles to 25,000 miles. For the 25,000-mile endurance run, the Packard V-8 averaged 104.73 miles per hour, including all stops.

Although specific horsepower and torque ratings were not disclosed, Burgess said substantial performance improvements in the new cars will be accompanied by fuel economy increases of as much as 20 per cent.

Raleigh Opal Goodson Correspondent

Sunbeams Hold Regular Meeting
The Sunbeams met Tuesday after school for their regular meeting. The book, "Little Missionary," was taught by Mrs. Mavis Taylor.

Members present were Nancy Taylor, Neva Miller, Johnny Miller, Glen Miller, Wayne Tate, Phyllis Tate, Margaret Tate, Billy Scott Tate, Ralph Lee Woods, Jim Mings, Roger Wiseman, Athel Wiseman, Glenda Hill, Larry Hill, Carolyn Hill, Laura Hill, Sue Reid, Steve Taylor, Shelby Harris, Jeanie Butler, Connie Stricklin, one visitor, Jean Hill, and the leaders, Mrs. Mavis Taylor and Mrs. Elizabeth Rodgers.

The Sunbeams and Mrs. Taylor sent a card to Darlene Goodson, a member who was ill and could not be present.

Methodist W. S. C. S. Meets At Roy Hudson Home
The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church met Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Roy Hudson of Galatia.

After the business meeting Christmas baskets and aprons that were being patched by giving donations for the church were discussed. An interesting devotion was given by Mrs. Utha Gaddis who used the nativity scene in miniature figures. The program was then given in topics. "Peace Among Nations" was given by Mrs. Lois Mick; "Peace in Industry, in Business and in Politics," by Mrs. Lena Irvin; "Peace in the Community and the Church," Mrs. Ruth Upchurch; "Peace in the Heart," Mrs. Elizabeth Bishop.

Mrs. Hudson served delicious refreshments of cookies and ice cream to the following: Mrs. Blanche Skates, Mrs. June Johnson and children, Jerry and Judy, Judene and Larry Morris, Elizabeth Bishop, Utha Gaddis, Ramona Gaddis, Opal and Darlene Goodson, Maxine Malone, Della Cain, Ella Dering, Pat Fulkerson, Lois Mick, Lena Irvin, Robbie Ecklund, Maud Harrison, Nola McClarren, Mrs. Kueckis, Ruth Upchurch, Rev. and Mrs. Hudson and family.

Ramond Gaddis played the piano for the music during the evening. Mystery pals were revealed and new names drawn for the next year. Gifts for the "grab box" were taken and gifts exchanged.

The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lois Mick.

First Baptist Night Circle Of W. M. U. Holds Meeting

The Night Circle of the W. M. U. of the First Baptist church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Roswell Sisney. Those present were Velma Farmer, Elizabeth Rogers, Emma Lou Adams and son Roger, Mabel Scronce, Mavis Taylor and children, Steve and Nancy, Carolyn Bradley, Georgia James, Pauline Farmer and the hostess, Mrs. Versa Sisney.

Philathea Class Meets At Church Tuesday

The Philathea Sunday school class of the First Baptist church met Thursday night at the church for the Christmas class social.

The church basement was beautifully decorated in keeping with Christmas, and a delicious potluck supper was enjoyed by Mrs. Myrtle Hale, Mrs. Marie Hale, Mrs. Beulah Bishop, Mrs. Versa Sisney, Mrs. Kathryn Mathis, Mrs. Lizzie Jones, Mrs. Nell Johnson, Mrs. Blanch Bowers, Mrs. Florence Parks, Mrs. Carolyn Bradley, Mrs. Mabel Scronce, Mrs. Mavis Taylor and children, Steve and Nancy.

Mrs. Taylor and children were especially invited guests. Mrs. Marie Hale is the teacher.

A revival is now in progress at the Methodist church. The pastor, Rev. Roy Hudson, is preaching and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doerner are song evangelists.

Diane Mathis has returned to her home from the Lightner hospital. Recent callers at the home of Opal and Darlene Goodson were Ella Dering, Utha Gaddis, Minnie Stevens and Freddie Houston of Harrisburg, S. E. Goodson of Rosiclar and Nathaniel Goodson of Iowa City, Ia.

Mrs. Mavis Taylor, Mrs. Helen Cantrell and Mrs. Peggy Peyton went to Carbondale Wednesday.

Rev. Todd Taylor is holding a revival at Grayville at the north side Baptist church.

Recent callers at the home of Mrs. Ella Dering were Rev. and Mrs. Todd Taylor and children, Steve and Nancy, Mrs. Lena Irvin, Mrs. Maud Harrison, Mary Elder and Mrs. Gar Woolard of Eldorado.

Mrs. Ernest Baker Hostess To Baptist Ruth Circle

Mrs. Ernest Baker was hostess Tuesday evening to the Ruth Circle of the First Baptist church.

The following were present: Mrs. Noble Mitchell, Mrs. Bud Hall, Mrs. Bernard Feazel, Mrs. Jim Boyett, Mrs. Dee Hester, Mrs. Joe Morman and Mrs. John Cape.

During the business meeting the group discussed the sending of presents to shut-ins.

Three chapters from the mission study book, "Land of Many Worlds," were given by Mrs. Cape, Mrs. Feazel and Mrs. Hall. The last two chapters of the book will be given at the next meeting. Refreshments were served.

There is a schoolhouse fire every six hours in the United States.

Who passed away three years ago today.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Brothers and Sister.

Social and Personal Items

First Methodist Kupples Class Meets At Harco School

The Kupples class of the First Methodist church held its Christmas party Tuesday evening at the Harco school. Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stain, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Biggers, and Mrs. Wilma Gidcomb.

The tables were filled with the choicest of the ladies' culinary products, and after grace by Otis Youngs, nearly 60 persons enjoyed this delicious food. The dining room was decorated with a lighted Christmas tree and ornaments and candles on the tables.

Following the meal, the members and guests went to the gym to the tune of "Jingle Bells." During a short business meeting Miss Bernice Patterson, teacher of the class, was presented a gift in appreciation of her excellent lessons. She responded with words of gratitude for being permitted to teach a class of loyal and devoted workers in the Sunday school.

During the program, J. C. Gasa-way led the group in singing familiar Christmas carols. Miss Patterson read Peter Marshall's "Keeping Christmas," and Rev. W. L. Cummins gave a devotion using the Matthew version of the Advent.

Especially invited guests included Mrs. Mable Pankey and Jake Moore of the Harco school staff, and Bill Holloman, a former class member who has recently returned to this city.

McKinley Baptist Juliet Mather Has Missionary Program

The Juliette Mather B. W. C. of the McKinley Baptist church met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Nettie Yarbrough for the regular business session and Royal Service program.

Roll call was answered by naming a Bible city. It was announced that the W. M. S. of the McKinley Baptist church would soon purchase a movie projector.

Mrs. Yarbrough's home decorated with candles and greenery carried out the Christmas theme. Mrs. Ruth Cusic was in charge of the program, "How Far Is It to Bethlehem." The group sang "Joy to the World" after which Mrs. Ruby Smith gave the devotion on "Bethlehem's Star," taken from Matt. 2:1-12, telling of one star which hung over Bethlehem and changed the history of the world by changing the hearts of believing men.

The following topics were given: "How Far to Bethlehem," by Ernestine Brinkley; "The Lost Road to Bethlehem," Millie Chamberlain; "Christmas and Home" by Louise LaBaw; and "Seeking the Road Back" by Eunice Burroughs.

The closing prayer was by Mrs. Yarbrough followed by the singing of "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Others present were Mrs. Juanita Seats and Mrs. Cusic's granddaughter.

First Baptist Everly Hays Circle Holds December Meeting

The Everly Hays circle of the First Baptist church held its December meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence Howell with eight members and one visitor present. Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, circle chairman, presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. Paul Hays opened the meeting with prayer after which Mrs. John Sisk, secretary and treasurer, gave the minutes of the previous meeting and the treasurer's report. The members voted to give a ten dollar love gift to an elderly couple instead of exchanging gifts and to remember the shut-ins at Christmas time.

Mrs. L. F. Waite, program chairman, directed the program which opened with an interesting devotion based on the Christmas carol, "Silent Night," by Mrs. Howard Scronce. Her scripture was taken from Matthew 2. The group sang one verse of "Silent Night."

Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Waite gave interesting topics on the MKS (Missionary Kids). Mrs. Sisk led in special prayer for these children in closing the program.

Mrs. Howell served delicious refreshments to those mentioned above and to the following: Mrs. Eulless Hughes, Mrs. Dan Minner and Mrs. Claude Parker, a visitor. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Sisk.

Beta Kappa Chapter Holds Pledge Ritual And Regular Meeting In Club Room

The Beta Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met Monday evening, Dec. 6, in the club room of the public library.

Mrs. Clayton Slack presided at the business meeting at which the chapter voted to donate to the T. B. association. The Beta Kappa and Xi Chi chapters of Beta Sigma Phi each voted to donate $10.00 to the Santa Claus fund.

The lesson for the evening was given by Miss Jeanette James on "Self Estimate-Happiness Through Control of Self and Environment." The highlight of Miss James' interesting talk was that happiness is within the reach of everyone and that one must have a contented mind, first of all, to achieve any measure of happiness. Faith is also very essential, she stated.

The following members were present: Mrs. Bill Brashears, Mrs. Joseph P. Hart, Mrs. Charles D. Taylor, Mrs. James Suver, Mrs. Leo Podorski, Mrs. Gene Neihaus, Mrs. William Keen, Mrs. Bob Gaskins, Mrs. Ronald Coon, Mrs. Marvin Barnett, Mrs. Slack, Miss Margaret Toth and Miss James.

Recently the Beta Kappa chapter held the annual pledge ritual and ritual of jewels.

The candidate for the pledge ritual was Mrs. Brashears and the candidate for the ritual of jewels was Mrs. Neihaus.

Following this impressive candlelight ceremony the members were served cranberry tea and dainty tea cookies from a beautifully appointed table.

First Baptist Craighead Circle Holds December Meeting

The Craighead circle of the First Baptist church met Dec. 9 at the home of Mrs. Pearl Allen.

Mrs. Archie Abney opened the meeting by leading the group in "Silent Night." Mrs. Stanley Price, program chairman, told the story of the Star of Bethlehem as part of the devotion, and Mrs. Abney read the story of Christmas taken from Matt. 2:1-12.

During the business meeting the circle voted to send gifts to a young girl at the Baptist home in Carmi and to send cards to shut-ins. The circle is also fixing a box of fruit for a needy family at the mission.

Mrs. Bolen Perkins presented Mrs. Abney with a Christmas gift in behalf of the circle.

Mrs. Price told of a former member of the circle who had been converted during the holidays last year through the prayers of the circle members and the home mission workers.

Other topics were given by Mrs. Fred Calvert, Mrs. B. F. Fearheiley, Mrs. Roscoe Metcalf, Mrs. Charles Gibbons.

Mrs. Price told of Christmas at home at the close of the program. The group was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Abney.

Mrs. Allen served refreshments to 15 regular members and two new members. Mrs. Hal Wilson and Mrs. B. F. Fearheiley.

McKinley Dorcas Class Has Christmas Party

Members of the Dorcas Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church were entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Cecil Wathen on South Roosevelt street, where the December meeting and annual Christmas party were held.

The Wathen home was decorated for the party, at which Christmas gifts were exchanged and Mrs. R. O. Cletcher presented readings in keeping with the occasion.

Mrs. J. C. Oshel gave the devotion and prayers were led by Mrs. Lee Jones and Mrs. Otis Reynolds Sr. Mrs. Cletcher conducted a short business session.

Refreshments were served to the abovementioned and Mrs. Rufus Wells, Mrs. Mermen Thomas, Mrs. John Upchurch, Mrs. Minnie Martin, Mrs. Jesse Cannon, Mrs. Versa Hetterscheidt and Mrs. George Harbison. Mrs. Elmer Gibbons, class teacher, was unable to attend because of illness.

Big Ridge Faithful Followers Class Meets

Twelve members of the Faithful Followers class of the Big Ridge Baptist church were present for the December meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Muggs Tuesday evening, Dec. 7.

Opening prayer was given by Irma Alvey followed by the devotion presented by Mrs. Eva Muggs who read from the 23rd Psalm. Mrs. Pauletta Humphrey, class teacher, was in charge of the recreation.

Roll call was answered by telling the place and date when saved by the following members: Barbara Miller, A. Jean Fox, Delta Ray Watkins, Pauletta Humphrey, Eva Muggs, Irma Alvey, Jane Fox, Wilma Rister, Genevieve Alvey and Ruth Muggs, the hostess.

The meeting was dismissed and refreshments were served.

Helen Sherer Circle Meets With Mrs. Mima Woolard

The Helen Sherer circle of the First Baptist church met Dec. 9 at the home of Mrs. Mima Woolard with 11 members present.

Mrs. Herman Davis gave an inspiring devotion on the Christmas story from the first chapter of Matthew. Mrs. Woolard was program chairman for the afternoon.

The topics discussed were stories about several different Margaret Fund students told by Mrs. Cecil Abney, Mrs. Corby Wickham and Mrs. Walter Bargman. A special prayer for the students was offered by Mrs. L. I. Webb.

Lovely refreshments of cake and hot chocolate were served during the social period.

Rice Sisters To Speak To Michael Hillegas Chapter

The December meeting of the Michael Hillegas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held Monday, Dec. 13, at the home of Mrs. C. E. Combe.

Mrs. Combe will be assisted by Mrs. Thomas L. Ozment, Mrs. Paul Hatfield and Mrs. Fred Lindsay.

Mrs. J. V. Capel will speak on "A Current Thought for National Defense," and Misses Louise and Kathryn Rice will talk on and show slides of "The Holy Land."

Christmas carols will be sung during the musical part of the program.

Mrs. Ruth H. Blackman of Lakeland, Fla., arrived in Carrier Mills yesterday for a visit during the holidays with her brothers, Carl L. and Ezra Harris, and sister, Miss Mildred Harris, and other relatives and friends.

Eastern Star Officers Are Installed In Candlelight Ceremony

In a most lovely and inspirational candlelight ceremony Thursday evening in the Masonic temple Mrs. Cecil Damron was installed as worthy matron of Harrisburg chapter No. 671 of the Order of the Eastern Star of Illinois. E. Bishop Hill was installed as worthy patron.

Installing officers were Mrs. Elizabeth Dayenport, past grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star of Illinois, Mrs. Bessie Border, chaplain, Mrs. Madge Johnson, marshal, all from the Harrisburg chapter, and Mrs. Kathryn Mathis, organist, past matron of the Raleigh chapter.

The hall was beautifully decorated with bouquets of silvered pine and pink roses, flower of the worthy grand matron of Illinois. Tall silver candelabra with lighted pine cones formed a background on the west side. A large pine candle-graced the piano and the registration table, and a floral display of silvered magnolia leaves and pine cones centered the reception table.

Candle lighters were Mesdames Sadie Lou Stricklin and Dorothy Bauden.

The officers received their charge before an altar draped in white satin, and the five points of the star, Adah, Ruth, Esther, Martha and Electa, were presented with colored bouquets in accordance with their stations.

Mrs. Gaynelle Ames, guest soloist, sang "If I Could Tell You," "Hold Thou My Hand Dear Lord," and "The Lord's Prayer," as a benediction. Mr. Roy Staiger, also a guest soloist, sang "Open the Gates of the Temple" and to Mr. Hill, "Let Me Live in the House By the Side of the Road."

Million TV Sets Built By Admiral Last Year

The Admiral corporation is the country's largest producer of TV sets. It made approximately 1,000,000 last year and expects to equal that production this year. Although some 95 manufacturers produce TV sets, more than 3,000,000 of the sets were made by Admiral.

After the war it entered the appliance business — refrigerators, ranges, freezers, room air conditioners and dehumidifiers.

The Admiral company, known originally as the Continental Radio and Television corporation, began business in the corner of a borrowed garage only 20 years ago. Ross D. Siragusa, Admiral's president, and three associates invested $3,400 in the business.

Gen. Van Fleet
Quits Support
For McCarthy

AUBURNDALE, Fla. (AP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former United Nations commander in Korea, withdrew its support of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy today because of the Republican's "insulting" attack on President Eisenhower.

The retired 8th Army commander who had joined efforts to get the Senate to call off its censure of McCarthy said "I cannot stand for" McCarthy's attack on "our great President."

Van Fleet said he sent a telegram to McCarthy Friday saying "This last attack on our great President causes me to withdraw all support" of the senator.

McCarthy last Tuesday accused Mr. Eisenhower of being soft toward Communists and "apologized" to his own followers because he once had urged their support of the President.

Van Fleet, who returned Thursday from one of his many excursions he has made out of the country since his retirement from active duty, said in the telegram:

"I am shocked by your personal bitter attack against the President of the United States, a full copy of which I have read today on my arrival home.

"In the past I have supported you and your fight against international Communism but never have agreed with your methods. This last attack on our great President causes me to withdraw all support."

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of the International Longshoremen's Association were stunned today by the revolt of rank and file workers who rejected an anti-strike pact negotiated by their leaders.

By a vote of 6,199-4,580 the longshoremen Friday night turned down the contract that promised a strike-free port for two years and a 17-cent hourly wage-increase for the dockworkers.

Job Counseling For Carrier Mills High Seniors

Job counseling has been made available to senior students at Carrier Mills Community high school by the Illinois State Employment Service, 115 North Main street, Harrisburg, Warren Jennings, principal of the high school announced today.

As part of the counseling program, Perry Moore, manager of the office, explained that students have taken the General Aptitude Test Battery, developed by the U. S. Department of Labor, to help them to decide on a vocational choice or to validate a choice they had already made. The General Aptitude Test Battery measures nine aptitudes which have been found important for success in many occupations. These aptitudes—intelligence, verbal ability, numerical ability, spatial ability, form perception, clerical perception, motor coordination, finger dexterity, and manual dexterity — are measured by means of 12 tests—eight paper and pencil tests and four apparatus tests. Scores on the individual aptitudes are then related to 20 fields of work representing approximately 2,000 occupations.

Tests results are then collated with all other information regarding the student including his vocational interests, training, and work experience. Only when all of this information is considered, can a student be given a job classification which expresses his best potential vocation.

Mr. Moore stated that each student will be given job counseling by Mrs. Anna Marie Coleman, counselor in the Harrisburg ISES office.

Boy, 10, Goes Into Seclusion to Escape Christmas

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Ten-year-old Scott Garrison went into seclusion today to escape the "dreadful effects of Christmas." It makes him sick.

Scott, a red-haired fifth grader, hates Christmas candy. He's allergic to evergreen. Saint Nick makes him violently ill. Almost everything connected with Christmas sends him to bed in pain.

His mother, Mrs. Cecil Garrison, said it was almost inevitable.

"We always take him out of school when they start having trees because we don't want the other children to miss that joy on account of Scott," she said. "This year we were too late."

Scott was four years old before doctors finally learned the reason for his deathly illness every Christmas season. Since then his father, an instructor of instrumental music, and his mother have carefully planned each Christmas, hoping to keep Scott well.

Generally the whole Garrison family goes into hibernation during the holidays. For Scott it's a long lonely period.

Scott can look forward to a few months of normal living when the Yuletide season passes.

But when Easter approaches he has to go back into hibernation again.

It's the Easter eggs—they make him violently ill.

Methodist Church Shows Gain

CHICAGO (AP)—The Methodist Church now has 9,223,152 members in the United States, a net gain of 71,628 over last year, it was announced today.

The Rev. Albert C. Hoover, church statistician, said pastors received 345,999 persons from preparatory membership and on the basis of vows, and 98,025 from other denominations.

However, losses by death and removal of inactive members from the rolls reduced the net gain to about three-fourths of 1 per cent, Hoover said.

Grant Delay To Draftees

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is offering 10,000 draftees a Christmas gift—a delay in their induction until after the holidays.

"The postponement of induction," the Army said Friday, "is not compulsory and any men who wish to be inducted as previously scheduled may do so."

The delay applies to all men who were scheduled for induction today or later. They may now wait until after the Christmas holiday.

XXIV
The manager of the park shook his head in answer to Greg's question. He had not seen a tall, fair young woman carrying two suitcases.

His son looked up from homework. "I saw her cut across the park; she took that dirt road over there."

"Where does it go?"
"Nowhere but Ferguson's farm and the Murgatroyd place. But they are quite a way up the road."

Greg nodded carelessly and sauntered across the park, but when he was out of sight he hurried. It was growing dark and he wanted to find Hannah without delay. She was not the kind of girl to do a thing like this just to bring him running after her. If she had come away, she meant to stay hidden. That was why she had taken the dirt road instead of a main highway.

She was so sensible Greg was not prepared for an impulsive action from her. Greg tried to remember what he had said to Daggett, what she had heard and misinterpreted. Phrases kept coming back to him about Hannah posing as the old man's niece and the truth of it might cause. He had said that a woman was not on a trip like this, but he had never pretended otherwise to her. He had never said that he wanted her to come along. She ought to have gone home in the first place.

Anyhow, he assured himself angrily, he was not to blame because she had overheard his conversation with Daggett, was he? He recalled Kirby saying, "I didn't know the fellow would put a bullet through his head."

Greg preferred not to know why she had been hurt. Things that were not put into words need not exist. But he did not want to think of her running down the road away from him. He did not want to think of her unhappy.

His flashlight caught and pinned a figure against the dark. He stopped running then. He did not want her to think that he had been in any hurry. She stood motionless. He could see her fair hair gleaming and her eyes enormous in the white mask of her face, reflecting in their dark pupils twin shafts of light from the torch.

He flashed it on his own face to reassure her and then turned it off. He heard her set down the heavy luggage and he groped for her in the dark, a hand on either arm, and shook her.

"Hannah," he said harshly, "what made you run away?" His hands tightened until he hurt her but she did not speak or move. "I thought you had some sense. Going off half cocked like that. When will you grow up?" His voice sounded as though he hated her. "Where did you think you were going? Don't ever pull a stunt like that again. Do you hear? Hannah—"

Under his hands he felt the warmth of her arms. He pulled her against him, cupped her chin in his hand and brushed her mouth with his lips. He kissed her again, his lips hard and insistent. His arms held her locked against him. He released her so abruptly that she staggered, flashed on his light and led her to a fallen log set back off the road. He pulled her down beside him and slipped his arm around her shoulders.

"Look," he said, trying to steady his breathing, "you shouldn't have run away like that. I was just sounding off to Daggett because of this guy Kirby. That's all there is."

was to it. I didn't mean—" By some alchemy of the night Hannah was transformed. She was ethereal, a Rossetti girl, poetry incarnate.

With a last clutch at his control he said unevenly, "We'd better go back."

When they reached the trailer park Greg broke the noisy silence between them. "You had better come in with me so the old man will know you are all right. He was pretty sick about your leaving. Then I'll pick up the car and drive you into town where you can get a room for the night."

She followed him passively into the trailer, blinking in the light. Kirby and Rupert were deep in talk but Daggett put down his book and looked from one to the other. The living eyes in the dead face widened and then narrowed.

"I've just come for the car to run Hannah into town," Greg said, scowling at Kirby who was to blame for everything. "I might as well pack a bag for myself if Kirby is to have my bunk."

Hannah said nothing about her letter and Daggett did not refer to it.

"All set?" Greg asked her. "Hannah," Daggett said anxiously, "you'll be back—I mean, what time will you be back?"

She did not answer.

"I'll pick her up before 8," Greg promised and opened the door. She went out to the car without a word and sat beside him in silence. He stole a glance at her profile, at the small straight nose, the wide mouth whose lips were so soft and warm. Light reflected on the tears that ran unchecked down her cheeks. And she did not know that she was crying.

Navy Corpsman Swims Icy River to Aid British Soldier

SEOUL (UP)—A U. S. Navy corpsman swam an ice-cold river and then walked a quarter of a mile barefoot into a mine field to take medical aid to a seriously wounded British soldier, the U. S. Marines said today.

The corpsman is Raymond Kusienko, hospitalman third class, Wellington, N. J. He swam the Samchon River in 35 degree weather Nov. 29 then followed a British officer to the place where the soldier had stepped on a mine.

The Commonwealth Division said as result of Kusienko's action the wounded soldier had a very reasonable chance to recover. He treated the soldier for several shrapnel wounds in his back, the biggest about the size of a half dollar.

Kusienko, who is attached to the 7th Marine Regiment, 3rd Battalion, has been in the Navy three years.

Former Radio Announcer Sentenced to Die in Colorado Gas Chamber

BRIGHTON, Colo. (UP)—Former Idaho Falls, Idaho, radio announcer Douglas Paul Beckstedt Friday was sentenced to die in the Colorado State gas chamber during the week of March 20 for the May 12 slaying of a Delavan, Ill. salesman.

Beckstedt was convicted Oct. 8 for the murder of Ronald A. Naffziger, 28, in a shooting near Denver's Municipal Airport.

Galatia Loses to Vienna, 62-56

Galatia's Bears lost a 62-56 decision at Vienna last night in Greater Egyptian conference play. The game was close most of the way with the host team gaining their edge during the second quarter. Both teams scored 12 points in the opening session and then Vienna took a 32-25 halftime lead. During the final half, each club scored 20 points.

GALATIA—Tate 15, Imboden 6, Clarida 11, Gray 11, Manker 7, McFarland 3, Clark 3. VIENNA—Hacker 4, Cato 4, Webb 22, Settlement 2, Walters 21, Penrod 5, Felker 4.

Mendes-France Wins Narrow Vote of Confidence

PARIS (UP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France won a narrow parliamentary victory today on his North African reform policy, then turned to face a loud Soviet diplomatic drive aimed at scaring France into scrapping the German rearmament agreements.

The deputies gave Mendes-France what amounted to a 294 to 265 vote of confidence. It was the narrowest margin of victory since he became Premier. Failure would have meant almost certain resignation.

Some politicians predicted the slipping majorities scored by Mendes-France would doom him as Premier once the assembly reluctantly ratifies the Western European union which will admit a free, re-armed West Germany as a member of NATO and the Brussels Pact.

But today's vote cleared away the last obstacle to the debate Dec. 20 on ratification of the German agreements.

Locals Play Carrier Mills Tonight at Davenport Gymnasium

The Benton Rangers thumped the Bull Dog cagers, 73 to 39, last night at Benton and tonight the Harrisburg boys will try to get themselves straightened out again in the more familiar confines of Davenport gym.

The foe tonight will be the Carrier Mills Wildcats, a good team that features big Oliver Rollins, ace rebounder and scorer.

Last night's game started out like it would be a good game to watch as the two teams battled on about even terms during most of the first quarter. But Benton put on a fast break that sent the Rangers of Coach Ralph Davison out in front and as the lead widened the local aggregation fell apart.

From there on out the game was all Benton.

Score 26-17 at Half
Dave Anglin, who has been the locals' best scorer, was held well in check by a lad named Barnfield, who stuck to David like a leech after he was inserted into the contest as a substitute. And, too, he made himself 10 points on

Coaching Clinic At U. I. Dec. 18-19

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Johnny Jordan, head basketball coach at University of Notre Dame, Abe Saperstein, coach and owner of the Harlem Globe Trotters, and Harry Combes, Illinois' coach, will be principal speakers at a two-day Illinois High School basketball coaching clinic in George Huff gymnasium Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 18-19.

They will be joined by Barney Bodke of St. Rita High School, Chicago, who will represent the state's prep men.

The clinic, sponsored jointly by the Illinois High School Coaches' Association and University of Illinois Athletic Association, will open at 1 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 18, with Jordan directing a session on "Offensive Patterns."

Bodke will lecture on "Changing Defenses" and Saperstein will discuss "Pivot Play" to complete the Saturday afternoon schedule.

Coaches will be guests of the Athletic association at an intercollegiate game between Notre Dame and Illinois at 8 p. m. Saturday.

Pairings for Egyptian Holiday Tourney

Will Be Held at Davenport Gym Dec. 27 to 30

Pairings for the annual Egyptian Holiday basketball tournament, to be held in Davenport gym Dec. 27, 28, 29 and 30, were announced today.

The pairings:
Monday, Dec. 27, at 7 p. m., Mt. Vernon vs. Zeigler at 8:00 p. m., Carrier Mills vs. West Frankfort.
Tuesday, Dec. 28, at 7 p. m., Edwardsville vs. Murphysboro; at 8:30 p. m., Harrisburg vs. Carbondale.

Wednesday, Dec. 29, Game 5, winners of Games 1 and 2, at 7 p. m.; Game 6, winners of Games 3 and 4, at 8:30 p. m.

Thursday, Dec. 30, losers of Games 5 and 6 for third place at 7 p. m.; winners of Games 5 and 6 for championship at 8:30 p. m.

Trophies will be given for first, second and third places. Seeding of teams by the participating coaches reveals that Mt. Vernon is the favorite to cop this year's tournament.

The past two years Coach Joe Lucco's Edwardsville Tigers have won this holiday tournament, which was started in 1950 with the site changing among Mt. Vernon, Harrisburg and West Frankfort. The first two years the title was won by the Mt. Vernon Rams.

Last year the meet was held at West Frankfort. Next year it will be at Mt. Vernon. This will be the second time the tourney has been held here.

The Egyptian tourney was the Mt. Vernon invitational meet before 1950.
Officials for this year's meet will be Claude Rhodes of Benton, Ford Peebles of Marion, Charles Rothschild of Cairo and Joe Spagnoli of Hurst.

Prices will be: Adults 70 cents, students 35 cents, reserved chairs 85 cents for single sessions. Season reserved chairs, for the four sessions, will be $3.00.

By ED KIRKPATRICK

Now that the firing has ceased and the smoke has died away, a second look can be taken at the Equality Invitational tournament windup. Shawneetown's Indians really took to the warpath in dominating the ninth annual affair. Barney Genisio's boys are making believers out of Shawneetown citizens, and the whole town is aroused to the potential in the Indians. Testimony of this fact was evident in the sideline support which followed the unbeaten Shawnees to Equality Thursday night, as well as the other two evenings.

Our statistical department has come up with these figures regarding the Indians. In their three journey games they scored a total of 194 points for an average of 64.6 per game. Their opponents tallied 137 points for an average of 45.6. Thus, Shawneetown on an average was 19 points better than their opposition. We also noted that the Indians took a total of 169 shots from the field in the three tussles and made 71 for a tourney average of .420. In the free throw department, they hit 52 of 81 for a tidy .642 in three games.

Shawneetown's best shooting performance came in the championship encounter against Ridgway. The Indians hit 25 of 52 from the field that evening and 16 of 22 at the charity line. Against Crab Orchard they counted 20 times in 50 tries from out front for .400 and connected on 21 of 31 free throws. They were "cold" against Joppa, bagging only 26 of 67 from the field and 15 of 28 at the 15-foot mark.

And here's Looking at Sports' selections for All-Tourney team honors: (Based on tourney play.)

Forwards
Nolen, Shawneetown.
Drone, Ridgway.
Graves, Crab Orchard.

Spottswill, Shawneetown.
Woolley, Equality.

Guards
Newsom, Shawneetown.
Hill, Crab Orchard.
Crayne, Ridgway.

Honorable mention—Joynner and Gunzel, Shawneetown; Barter, Abell and Downen, Ridgway; Kaufmann and Glover, Equality; Proctor, Peebles and Chance, Crab Orchard; Aiken, Sohn and King, Royalton; Mathis, Joppa; Merritt, Mills Prairie; and Moser, Enfield.

Here are the tourney's top scorers:

Player, Sch.	gp	tp	avg.
Nolen, S-town	3	67	22.3
Drone, R-way	3	53	17.6
Crayne, R-way	3	52	17.3
Graves, C. O.	3	50	16.6
Spottswill, S-town	3	44	14.6
Aiken, Royalton	3	40	13.3
Newsom, S-town	3	36	12
Sohn, Royalton	3	36	12
Downen, Ridgway	3	34	11.3
Hill, C. O.	3	34	11.3
Joynner, S-town	3	31	10.3
Peebles, C. O.	3	30	10
Add to this dozen the names of Ken Woolley, Equality, and Doug Mathis, Joppa, who scored 17 and 20 points respectively in the lone games in which they participated. Nolen's 67-point total came on 26 fielders and 15 foul tosses.

For the past few years, teams representing the Little Egyptian conference have made off with the Equality Invitational's No. 1 trophy. Royalton did it last year, Thompsonville the two years before. This year the Little Egyptian again sent its best—Crab Orchard and Royalton, but the Greater Egyptian conference was ready. Shawneetown and Ridgway picked up the No. 1 and No. 2 trophies, and the two Little Egyptian schools had to be satisfied with third and fourth. Incidentally, Crab Orchard is leading the Little Egyptian flag race and Royalton has been in second place. If Crab Orchard's victory Thursday night is any indication, the Trojans should walk off with the conference honors. The Shawneetown is pointing for the Greater Egyptian crown but may have to wrestle with Cave-in-Rock before the season is completed.

We dug into the past history of this Equality meet long enough to round up these facts: Former Champions—1946—Galatia, 1947—Carrier Mills, 1948—Galatia, 1949—Carrier Mills, 1950—Crab Orchard, 1951—Thompsonville, 1952—Thompsonville, 1953—Royalton and 1954—Shawneetown. Although Ridgway and Equality have never won the meet, each have taken second place three times. Here are the runners-up by years: 1946—Ridgway, 1947—Galatia, 1948—Ridgway, 1949—Galatia, 1950—51—52—Equality, 1953—Thompsonville and 1954—Ridgway.

Shawneetown Defeats Pope Co., 71-46, For 12th Victory; Cave-in-Rock Wins

Showing no signs of letdown following their recent tournament victories, Shawneetown's Indians posted victory No. 12 last night by whipping Pope Co., 71-46. It was the eighth straight conference triumph for the unbeaten tribe.

Cave-in-Rock landed Rosiclare its ninth setback, 61-41, in another conference game played on the Bears' court. Vienna in defeating Galatia also strengthened their position in the loop race.

Shawneetown and Pope Co. staged a bitter shooting war during the first half, both clubs averaging better than 500 from the field. The Indians took an 18-14 quarter lead and extended it to 36-31 at the intermission.

During the third canto, Shawneetown edged into an 11 point lead, and then during the whirlwind fourth, the host Indians outscored their buckling opponents 20-6 to run up the 71-46 decision.

"Cave had no trouble with inexperienced Rosiclare. They led 22-8 at the quarter and 32-17 at the half. After taking command 46-24 at the third, the Rivermen coasted to the finish."

SPIRE in the SNOW

Next time you see a church standing in the snow, its spire raised to the winter sky, think how hard it was to attend Sunday services in your grandfather's day.

Then it was a matter of getting up in the cold chill of early morning, hitching up horse and sled, and jingling across the countryside with sharp icicles of wind stinging your cheeks. Yet few stayed at home because of the weather.

Today, it is relatively easy for all of us to get to Church. Whether we live in the city or in the country, modern transportation can bring us conveniently to the very doors of the Church. Yet we are far more apt to stay home than grandfather was.

Grandfather realized there was so much to be gained by making his pilgrimage through the snow that only sickness could have kept him at home. He knew that few experiences were richer than worshipping in the church of his choice each Sunday morning. If we stop to think . . . and if we're honest with ourselves . . . we'll know it too.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'A Hunger for God'

Ps. 142:1-8; 84:4; 102:25-27
By Dr. Archie E. Brown
GOLDEN TEXT: "This God is our God forever." (Psalm 48:14)

INTRODUCTION: In every human being there is a yearning for God. This is found even in the darkest parts of Africa. It is found in the lives of evil men or women in our homeland. Many try to hide this heart-hunger for God, but there are some times when the vilest of men cannot hide this desire for God's presence.

The man or woman who is a Christian has these desires to a greater degree. A Christian has a hunger for God at all times. Let him do wrong and he will have a stricken conscience. Let him feel that he is out of fellowship with God, and he will not rest until that broken fellowship is mended. God permits His Holy Spirit to do His work with such folks as this.

I HUNGER AND THIRST FOR GOD (Psalm 42:1-3)
Have you ever been real thirsty? Many hunters know something of how one feels when he has gone for hours without water and none is in sight. Some of you perhaps have suffered from long periods of thirst for water.

The Psalmist here says: "As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee." This is a vivid expression of hunger for God. Millions of people are filled with sorrow, distress and troubles. These people need what God alone can give.

More books and magazines come off of the press today, dealing with psychology, than ever before in our history. Still, there is more unrest than ever before. What is wrong? People are depending on man's ability to cure their ills. What one should do is turn to God in the hours of need.

II REMEMBER GOD (Psalm 42:4-8)
When this man had trouble to enter into his life, he could recall some pleasant memories of associations with God. He remembered the sweet fellowship with people.
